

His Power is Greater

I recognize that these are not your standard memory verses, but every now and then a verse jumps out and captures my imagination.

- Psalm 50:3 was one such verse. I could not stop envisioning what it would be like to remain close to a God who is surrounded by a mighty tempest. It's no wonder life can feel a little wild when we draw near to God!
- 2 Thessalonians 2:8 was another verse that captivated me. Jesus destroys His enemy by the splendor of His coming. The splendor arrives before He even fully arrives. It is simply by His splendor which brings destruction upon His enemy! What incredible power!

And it was this truth that I wanted to hold onto...

Regardless of the power I see at work in my children's lives, in my marriage, in my community
His Power is Greater!

I have included a few verses that speak of His power – the power of His breath, of His voice, of His majesty; and a few verses about trusting Him to be our light when life feels a little dark.

In the following 3 pages you will find 12 scripture memory cards; however, I have left 2 blank so you could include a couple of verses that have captured your imagination.

Friend may these verses bless you and remind you that no matter your struggles, if you have surrendered your life to Jesus, then you belong to God. Rest in Him. Remind yourself of His power to rescue and sustain.
